White chocolate gateau

CUTS INTO 14 SLICES

SPONGE

90g • 3oz butter, melted and cooled slightly, plus extra for greasing

Ashley's name (well not completely)

6 large eggs
175g • 6oz caster sugar
125g • 4oz self-raising flour
30g • 1oz cocoa powder
2 tbsp cornflour

FILLING AND TOPPING

300ml • ½ pt double or whipping cream, whipped until thick white chocolate curls, optional see Cook's Know-how

KITCHEN KIT

a deep 23cm • 9in round cake tin

? Lightly butter the cake tin and line the bottom of the tin with baking parchment.
? Put the eggs and sugar in a large bowl and whisk together with an electric mixer on high speed until the mixture is pale and thick enough to leave a trail on itself when the whisk is lifted out.
? Sift together the flour, cocoa powder and cornflour, and fold half into the egg mixture. Pour half the cooled butter around the edge; fold in gently.
? Repeat with the remaining flour mixture and butter, folding gently. Turn the mixture into the prepared cake tin and tilt the tin to level the surface. Bake in a preheated oven at 180C/160C fan/gas 4 for 35-40 minutes until the sponge is well risen and firm to the touch. Turn out on to a wire rack, peel off the lining and leave to cool.
? Cut the cake in half horizontally and sandwich the layers together with half the whipped cream. Cover the cake with a thin layer of cream, then pipe the remainder around the top and bottom edges.
? Press the chocolate curls over the top and side of the cake, if using.

COOK'S KNOW-HOW

For the chocolate curls, have the chocolate at room temperature and use a vegetable peeler to shave off curls on to a sheet of greaseproof paper, before pressing them on to the cake.
